WON'T CRUSH PEANUTS HERE

Southern Cotton Oil Company Will Send Peanuts to Montgomery Mill.

Unless enough peanuts are planted in this immediate territory to justify the outlay of expense necessary to make changes for the manufacture of peanut oils, the local plant of the Southern Cotton Oil Company will not crush peanuts at their plant in this city.

The local plant, however, plans to buy peanuts another year, and those bought in this section will be sent to the Montgomery mill, where they will be crushed.

Should the peanut industry in this section grow in rapid bounds the Southern Cotton Oil Company will make preparations to crush peanuts here. As it now stands no such arrangements have been made, these probable changes depending absolutely on the question of production and demand.

It is believed that the plant at Montgomery will be enabled to take care of all peanuts bought in Southeast Alabama, and should such not be the case, then the local plant will probably engage in the business.

The peanut industry is the cotton belt is in an experimental stage, and in the course of a season or two, growers and manufacturers alike, will know whether this is a practical and profitable undertaking.

Start out this week to finish that Christmas Shopping and leave Strickland's Place first on your list. 114

PLANTERS COMPANY TO CRUSH PEANUTS

The Planters Cotton Oil Company will in all probability crush peanuts at their plant in Dothan next season, according to announcement made today by Manager Falkner. This will be of interest to farmers and others who keep up with such matters. This means a new enterprise for this city, and will have a tendency towards stimulating the yearly production of peanuts in Southeast Alabama.

Don't forget that you can get your Christmas list complete at Stricklands. 114

Miss Florence Ellis returned today from Thomasville, Ga., where she has been on a visit.

JOKER SENDS SQUIRREL WITH FORD SHIP

Miss Evangeline Cate and Squirrel Mascot in a Stateroom on Board the Oscar II.

New York, Just before the Oscar II, with Henry Ford's peace party aboard steamed from her pier, a lanky messenger with a squirrel in a cage ran up the gangplank, deposited his burden, wheeled about and was gone before any one could question him. On the cage was a card bearing the inscription stating that the squirrel was presented as a mascot for the "Good Ship Nutty." The name of the sender was not on the card.

Miss Evangeline Cate, of Detroit, and a member of the peace party, was appointed official keeper of the mascot. As the ship swung out into the river a voice cautioned Miss Cate to keep a close watch over the squirrel or he would escape from his cage and get after the "Nuts" on board.

WIFE IN JAIL; HUSBAND DIES FROM POISON,

JURY'S VERDICT

Mrs. Gid Blan, of Alaga, Detained on Murder Charge. Calm.

WILL EXAMINE MAN'S STOMACH

Woman Arrested Monday by Deputies Hornsby and North.

CORONER'S JURY MAKES A REPORT

Wife Claims She Gave Husband Quinine Capsule With Whiskey.

HUSBAND SMOKED, THEN DIED HARD

Grand Jury Slated to Probe Case Tomorrow—Will Summon Witnesses.

Mrs. Debby Blan of Old Alaga, twenty miles east of Dothan, is in the county jail this afternoon charged with murder in connection with the death of her husband, thought to have been poisoned.

Gid Blan, who was acquitted of an arson charge some time ago, was taken violently ill Sunday morning at an early hour, and died soon afterwards.

Justice of the Peace W. E. McEachern of Gordon, empanelled a coroner's jury, which after examining the case, returned a verdict that the man's death was caused by poison.

Under the direction of Dr. C. C. Box, and perhaps others, the stomach of Blan was taken out Monday morning, and sent to Auburn so that the contents may be searched for signs of any poison, while the corpse was given to a relative, who lives 7 miles south of Donalsonville, Ga., where the man will be buried.

A warrant was issued Monday morning at the instance of Sheriff John A. May, charging Mrs. Gid Blan with murder. The woman was brought to Dothan at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon by County Sheriff Ross Hornsby and Alvin North, and locked in the county jail.

Woman Was Calm

The woman was calm, according to one of the arresting officers, although she is said to have manifested some excitement when she heard that her husband's stomach was going to be examined, the wife declaring that the body be buried intact, according to reports.

Her Story

According to the wife's story, as told to one of the deputies, she claims that she got up at 4 o'clock Sunday morning and gave her husband a capsule containing quinine, and he took a small drink of whiskey with it. He went out on the porch, got a drink of water, came back into the room, smoked, fell over upon the bed, and died. He is said to have died in convulsions.

Citizens of the old Alaga community suspected foul play, and began an investigation.

The outcome of future proceedings, it is believed, will depend largely on the report as to the condition of the man's stomach, and the action taken by the grand jury tomorrow.

It is understood that four witnesses will be summoned to appear before the grand jury in the case tomorrow.

The grand jury is probing the shooting of Deputy Sheriff Grady Granger today.

ENGAGEMENT EXTRAORDINARY

First Popular Priced Attraction to be Seen at the Auditorium

Manager Thomas, of the Auditorium, after a hurried trip to Columbus, Ga., to look the Norcross St. Clar Stock Company over, engaged the company for one week's engagement at the Auditorium. The company cancelled a date at Savannah to play here and should be greeted by crowded houses nightly, as this is the premier attraction of the South, the oldest and best and biggest company now touring this section. The opening play will be the ever popular "The Sweetest Girl In Dixie," a play that always pleases. A play in which Miss St. Clair and Mr. Pollock of this company created two parts with the author, and who were seen in the original cast of the New York production of this play. Mr. Pollock, who is featured with the Norcross St. Clair Stock Company is admittedly the most thoroughly capable actor in the South, a man who with a great personality and general all around ability is a revelation to those who have seen him in the many kinds of characters he portrays in the extensive repertoir of the company. Unlike most leading men, Mr. Pollock does not adher to one line of parts, but runs the gamut of characters from decrepit old age to building manhood from tragic roles to high comedy. Mr. Pollock has in his support some of the best actors to be seen in the country at popular prices. During the week the company will produce The Deep Purple, The White Sister, which play is the feature attraction. The Awaken-

It looks like the bond issue is going to get a good beating.

Maybe that Kansas man who kissed Bryan makes him do that way.

Nothing is as bad as expected, not even the boll weevil invasion.

The fire always seems to burn better when the weather is not so cold.

A child's idea of a good person is one who will give him plenty of good things to eat.

Farmers shouldn't be blamed for trying to raise a little cotton for the boll weevil, but it's foolish to raise hogs for the cholera when inoculation will save them.

"There is one grocery store to every 200 inhabitants in the United States." And each store has about 200 bad accounts on the books, likely.

PROHIBITIONISTS AND THE BOND ISSUE.

The Birmingham News is up to its old tricks again. In a news story, it reports that the prohibitionists are planning to force an extra session of the legislature by defeating the bond issue.

The News probably thinks that, in this manner, two birds will be killed with one stone. It intimates that an extra session is the alterantive of a bond issue, and it also would endeavor to place the prohibitionists in a bad light, if possible.

Governor Henderson, himself, is quoted as saying that he will not call an extra session of the legislature in the event the bond issue is not adopted.

Then, again, why should the prohibitionists desire an extra session of the legislature in the event the bond issue is not adopted.

Then, again, why should the prohibitionists desire an extra session? They have secured all the prohibition legislation they desired. What else can they want?

The News seems to know more of the prohibitionists' plans than do the prohibitionists themselves. —Columbus Journal.

SPANK 'EM, MR. GLASS.

Mr. Glass' Birmingham News carries a bitter articles against the Alabama legislature. Under the heading of "State-Widers Try to Mess Things Up Still Worse," he seeks to show that nobody will be found opposed to the bond issue except straight prohibitionists, and he would have you believe that they want the bond issue defeated, so that the Governor will have to call the legislature together in extra session.

Mr. Glass' article fails to state why the prohibition wing of the legislature should want to be called together in extra session.

It is our idea that the Governor will never call that body together, matters not what the result of the bond election. If the body didn't do what he wanted done when it was in session, what assurance does he have that it would accomplish it now?

But here's the article:

[illegible]

A political rumor is current in Birmingham that members of the prohibition majority of the legislature will make an active fight against the $1,500,000 bond issue, in order to force the Governor to call an extraordinary session of that body. Whatever pussy-footed pact is on foot to intensify bitterness over the prohibition question further and perpetuate that quarrel, these gentlemen may be quite sure that Governor Henderson knows that those pussy-feet have foolish, hurtful claws, and he will not hastily, if at all, allow a foolish expenditure of the State's money in an extra session.

It may be that the prohibitionists merely want to pass a law whereby none in the State shall forevermore have coffee along with his bacon and eggs. It may be that they wish only to erect a statue of a lady in the act of smashing a cup of Java blend bearing the inscription "two per cent. caffeine."

But the Governor's mind is made up on this point, and there will be no necessity for a special session. The Governor gave that legislature ample time to pay the State's debts when it was in session, and if these gentlemen are hatching a scheme to defeat payment of these debts when it has been put before the people fairly and squarely, let them go ahead. They will find little comfort or result in such a foolish proceeding.

Odd, isn't it, how an aberration can so obsess as to quite unfit a group of persons for any sort of serious proceeding!

The Governor will not conduct another kindergarten at an early date.

A majority of prohibition legislators happily do not represent the temper of a majority of the voters of the State.

The bond issue will be issued by the Commonwealth.

Now, it happens, that down here in Houston county, most of the opposition to the bond issue comes from Governor Henderson's strongest supporters and friends, many of whom, if not all of them, are ardent local optionists. And what are you going to do about that, Mr. Glass?

And that last line of the News' article: "The bond issue will be authorized by the commonwealth." That sounds like some of the editorials which were printed by that paper just before Arlie Barber was elected in Birmingham over the News' protest.

PURE PREJUDICE.

We have been asked why we refused to help a certain candidate for Congress in this district. We will confess: he once were a goatee. It is nothing more sensible than that. We just have a prejudice against him. Most people are equally narrow, but they give high sounding reasons for their prejudice. We know why we are against this man. He once wore a goatee and probably would wear sideburns and a plug hat, if he had the courage of his foolishness. Moreover, he's the kind of a man who eats doughnuts for breakfast, and puts vinegar and sugar on his lettuce and gravy on his pie.

We are running this paper to suit ourselves. We claim we are entitled to our own prejudices so long as we look after the pay-roll, and no man shall go to Congress from this district if we can help it who may burst out into side whiskers at any critical moment in the history of this Republic.—Emporia (Kan.) Gazette.

SOLD HIS OATS

Mr. B. F. Ivey, some weeks ago advertised seed oats for sale. He sold all he had—400 bushels, and every customer who called for the oats said he had seen the ad in The Eagle. This is possibly the highest score this paper ever made.

HAVE ROSY CHEEKS AND FEEL FRESH AS A DAISY—TRY THIS!

Says glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast washes out poisons

To see the tinge of healthy bloom in your face, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way. 15

Among Many Others It Contains the Tombs of Charles X and "Henry V" of France—Known as "Austrian Nice."

Mentioned almost daily in the war dispatches from the Italo-Austrian front, the little town of Gorizia has gained considerable prominence of late.

Besides being the center of important military operations, Gorizia is of interest because of its historic associations. Lying between Venice and Trieste, not far from the Adriatic, Gorizia has a population of about 10,000.

The town has been an Austrian possession for more than five centuries and its pleasant climate has earned it the name of "the Austrian Nice."

In the outskirts on a hill is a Franciscan monastery, the road to which is marked by the 14 stations of the cross. From the esplanade in front of the monastery church an extensive view of the surrounding country is obtained.

Below spreads the town, with the ancient chateau of the counts of Gorizia and the Villa Boeckmann, or the winter residence of the countess Chambord, towering over the less pretentious houses. A little further off one can trace the capricious course of the Isonzo river, the bed of which is said to the the burial place of Attila the Hun chieftain.

In the distance lies the Carso limestone plateau, sheltering the magnificent castles of Duino, belonging to the house of Hohenlowe, and Miramar which used to be the favorite residence of Archduke Maximilian, later emperor of Mexico.

The horizon is bounded by Trieste, a chain of snow-covered Alp peaks, the Venetian plain and the Adriatic.

In the little chapel of St. Louis, in the right wing of the Franciscan church, the bodies of King Charles X of France, the duke and duchess d'Angouleme and the duchess of Parma had their resting place until 1883, when they were removed to a large vault under the high altar.

In this vault there are six sarcophagi, three on each side of a marble crucifix, raised on a high pedestal. Charles X has the duke d'Angouleme on his right and the duchess on his left.

In the other group the sarcophagus of King Henry V (the count de Chambord) has been placed between those of the countess de Chambord and the duchess of Parma.

On a black marble slab behind the sarcophagus of the count de Chambord is the following inscription: "Here rests the high born and very excellent Prince Henry, fifth of the name, by the grace of God king of France and Navarre. Born in Paris, September 29, 1820. Died at Frohsdorf August 24, 1883."

Over his tomb is raised an immense white banner emblazoned with the royal fleur de lis, in compliance with the order given by the count in his manifesto of July 5 1871, where he expressed a wish "that the standard of Henry IV, of Francis I and of Joan of Arc, which had floated over his cradle, should also throw its shadow over his tomb."

Imported Birds.

The number of birds imported into the United States annually amounts to about 500,000, and as many as 17,000 have become dwellers in America within one day. The half million feathered strangers represent 1,500 different species, but the greater number of the importations are of canaries, parrots and game birds.

Muddy Missouri River.

The Missouri is the muddiest river in the Mississippi valley, it carries more silt than any other large river in the United States except possibly the Rio Grande and the Colorado. For every square mile of country drained it carries downstream 381 tons of dissolved and suspended matter each year.

To Wash White Corduroy.

Wash in warm, soapy water until clean, using a good quality soap. Then boil one-half hour in soapy water. Rinse in clear water, changing the water three times, and rinsing again in cold bluing water. Don't wring or squeeze, but hang to drip dry (in open air if possible). Don't iron.

Did All He Could.

"Now," said the nervous old woman to the druggist, "are you sure you have that medicine mixed right?" "Yes, ma'am," said the conscientious apothecary, "I wouldn't go as far as that, but I've got it mixed the way the doctor ordered it."

BEAUTY NOT AT FIRST SEEN

Makers of Furniture Were Slow to Recognize the Supreme Worth of Mahogany Wood.

Like the use of a great many of the factors connected with the arts and the sciences, the discovery of the beauty of the grain of mahogany for furniture was accidental, says a London contemporary. The story goes that a certain West Indian captain who had brought back to England some planks of mahogany as ballast, decided to give the wood to his brother, a Doctor Gibbons, then building a house on King street, Covent Garden. But the planks were so hard that the carpenters objected, and the plan of using them fell through.

Some time later Mrs. Gibbons wanted a small box made, and the doctor sent the mahogany to a cabinetmaker. To his turn the cabinetmaker objected to the hardness of the wood, but the doctor persisted so much in his request that the order was finally executed.

The finished box polished so nicely that the doctor ordered a bureau made of the same wood. The cabinetmaker despaired that in his shop window before delivering it. The duchess of Buckingham saw it and begged enough wood from the doctor to have it duplicated, and mahogany furniture soon after came into favor.

Home Partnership.

The president of a woman's college in the United States believes that every woman should be brought up to earn her own living, if necessary, but adds: "I am not willing to say that a wife and mother in a home does not earn hers. I believe that in most cases she does. The average marriage is a partnership, in which the wife does her share in keeping up the home and caring in it for the children, and the children belong equally to the man and woman, and are their joint responsibility.

"I certainly do want women to have all their rights. What I look forward to is the day when no woman shall be at a disadvantage, because of her sex, and when no woman shall be able to take an unfair advantage because of it. Both conditions exist today, and each is a necessary corollary of the other."

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat And Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to get relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them drive off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a sick person right away.

At first you feel a dull pain in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue is coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then get fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

A CURE FOR BRONCHITIS

We Have Been Selling in Dothan for Many Years & Respect Fully Guarantee.

Please read the following letter and we promise if you buy a bottle of Vinol from us and are the least bit dissatisfied, we will cheerfully return your money.

Woodstock, Ill. "I suffered from bronchitis, had a very bad cough and a pain in my chest. was weak and tired all the time. It seemed almost impossible for me to go on with my work. I tried different remedies without benefit, also cough medicines, but my druggist recommended Vinol, and it gave me almost instant relief. Its continued use cured my bronchitis and built me up so that I feel like a different man." Charles Botts.

The reason that cough syrups fail in such cases is because they are palliative only, when Vinol removes the cause, being a constitutional remedy in which are combined the healing elements of fresh cods' livers, together with tonic iron and beef peptone. It strengthens and revitalizes the entire system and assists nature to expel the disease. Our faith in Vinol is shown in the above offer. N. H. McCallum, Druggist. 28

BRITISH NOW CENSORING ALL AMERICAN MAIL.

Opened and Censored Letter Received From England.

London, Dec. 15.—There is now a general censorship in all mails to America, the chief postal censor asserts. The reason for this, it is intimated, is that without such a censorship the without such a censorship the was always an opportunity for Germany to receive information through the mails, and information of value to Germany is believed already to have passed to America in that way. The censorship on American mails has heretofore been insignificant.

TOM MARSHALL'S READY WIT

Kentucky Orator Hard to Corner, as Frankfort Belle Found Out to Her Great Discomfort.

Tom Marshall of Kentucky, who flourished as an orator and wit in the last century, was a gallant gentleman who, opportunity offering, distributed his osculatory activities without regard to age, race or previous condition of servitude. On Christmas eve he met in the hall the pretty octoroon slave maid of Miss Breckenridge, a society leader and belle. Tom kissed her and she was so responsive and he so liberal that he expressed his appreciation by giving her what he supposed was a $20 gold piece. In fact, it was a gold medal that had been presented to him by the citizens of Frankfort, Ky., for some services rendered to that burg. The girl tried to change it, when the storekeeper, supposing it to be stolen, impounded it and gave it to her mistress. The girl being called to account admitted that it was a Christmas gift from Mr. Marshall and confessed that the ball was dark and that Tom kissed her before she could help it.

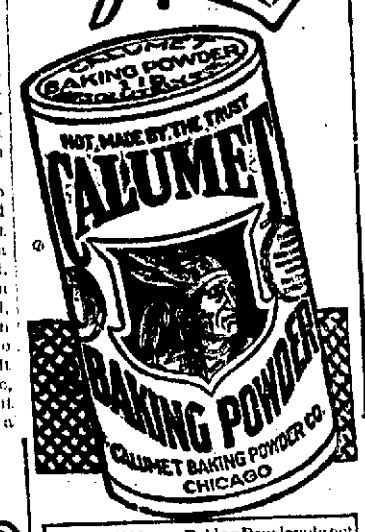

Miss Breckenridge determined to give Mr. Marshall a lesson in good manners, so that evening at a brilliant social function she assembled half a dozen Louisiana belles about her and, calling Tom to the group, handed him the medal and said: "Mr. Marshall, here is something you parted with in the dark. It is restored to you in the light." Tom replied promptly: "It was dark, sure enough, but believe me, Miss Breckenridge, if I had known it was you I wouldn't have given you a cent."

THE OLDEST BALE IN THE WORLD

Mr. Theodore Price in his paper, Commerce and Finance (which most cotton people subscribe to), has recently started a discussion in reference to the oldest bale in the world. While this discussion does not affect our present market, it is of interest not only to the cotton trade but to northern investors and people outside of the cotton belt in fact it shows the imperishable qualities of cotton and the investment possibilities that cotton gives, as the only commodity of its kind in the world that can be held indefinitely without deterioration.

We have in our possession a sample of a bale ginned in 1862. This cotton was picked by slave labor, ginned and placed in a ventilated barn and kept there for a number of years. At the death of the owner it was placed in a local warehouse in South Carolina by the son of the owner and has been held by him hoping it might be of interest to his father's memory.

We are very anxious to find older bales if they exist, and if you have or know of a bale that was ginned prior to 1862, it would be of great interest to the cotton world to know of it, to vise us if they know of any older bale that is still in existence, and if cultivated by slave labor, who if possible, to send us a sample of the cotton and a little history of when it was ginned and why it was held so long. The benefit will accrue to the South and full credit will be given to you if you can place us in touch with any old bale.

Trusting that we may have a little story from you along the above lines, we remain,
